| ORANGE BLUSSOMS IN YOGUE

Never Before, So Many Autumn Weddings in Washington.

There Will Be Four On One Day Next Week-Mt. Pleasant Particularly Affected by the Epidemic.

More this senson than ever before orange clossoms and autumn leaves interming le their beauty. It is as if Hymen were doing his best to deprive the fall months of their established reputation as "melancholy days, the saddest of the year," by ringing wedding bells with all his might and main, and minating every home where romance and sentiment could find a victim, with his sentiment could find a victim, with its blazing torch. White satin has been posi-tively rising in price, since October 1, and mermet roses and rice bid fair to command exorbitant rates of purchase. Out at Mount Pleasant the epidemic of wedding is most alarming, no less than ten couples in a less number of weeks giving up the charms of society—for domestic bliss. The worst feature of the trouble in that The worst reature of the frombe in that quarter, is that the girls are all marrying men from other cities, and going elsewhere to reside. Lamentations are going up in the suburbs because of the many Lochinvars from "out of the west" and north, who are winning the wittlest and prettiest maidens from their suitors here.
